

SELF-ERECTING TOWER CRANES

Self erecting tower cranes are simple to erect and use. They are a multi-purpose piece of equipment. This makes them an ideal choice for house, apartment and general construction; or anywhere where space is at a premium. On-site these cranes have a small footprint area and undertake a multitude of tasks including the lifting of: concrete skips; bricks and blocks; mortar skips; roof trusses; plasterboard; timber; and rubbish skips.

They are a great alternative to mobile cranes or large telehandlers and offer many benefits:

- Eliminates the need to store fuel on site
- Reduces or eliminates emissions
- Silent working means no noise impact
- No reversing controls or traffic management required
- Reduces site being “churned up”
- No punctures / broken windows
- Eliminates or reduces mobile crane visits

In return a self-erecting tower crane will give you:

- Cost efficiency
- Complete versatility
- Versatile site coverage with one jib
- Moves loads from transport to work area in one operation
- Reduced storage areas
- Environmentally friendly
- Considerate construction on angry neighbours
- Ease and speed of set up
- Operated from ground level or work area
- Quick and easy placement of material
- Options for fitting zoning systems
